Campus Chest Committee Plans Campus Carnival

By Herman Moskowitz

A temporary committee of Campus Chest has submitted plans for an ALL-UNIVERSITY affair this April to the Student Council after approval of the Executive Committee earlier this week.

The proposed activity would be a Carnival, complete with booths and trimmings, to be held in front of Alumni Hall, April 18. All campus organizations, alumni and faculty-staff groups are expected to participate.

Unlike previous affairs, arrangements would begin well in advance for allotting and installing the various booths and organizing the activities. With the co-operation of the student body, the Carnival should be a huge success and net a tidy profit for distribution to worthwhile charities.

Campus Chest is a self-supporting organization founded at the University by the Student Council to participate in the support of local, national and international charities without being subject to constant solicitation by these charities.

The Executive Committee consists of Charles Smith, advisor; Floyd I. Brewer and John Sherry, consulting advisors; Benjamin Raubvogel, general chairman; Vic-

Dr. Yeager To Lecture At Convocation Tuesday

"So You Want the Right Job?" will be the topic of a convocation Tuesday at Carlson Lecture Hall.

The lecture to be delivered by Dr. Marie L. Yeager will begin promptly at 10 A. M. The convocation will include such topics as inquiring for a job, techniques in getting the job and how to hold the position.

Interviews Scheduled For June Grads

By Frank Cascella

University engineering students who are graduating this June may be interviewed for possible employment at the Springfield Armory, Springfield, Mass. Tuesday in T-214 at 10 A. M.

Interviews will also take place Tuesday at 10 A. M. in Central Annex for those students interested in selling. Students who wish to be affiliated with a nation-wide sales organization which offers with the job a complete training program, will have the opportunity to meet with representatives of the Chicopee Mills, a division of Johnson and Johnson.

Series Will Be In Armory March 5, 6

By Al Lepow

The University of Bridgeport yesterday announced acceptance of an invitation to compete in the New England regional playoffs of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) to be held March 5 and 6 at the State Armory on Main St.

By selection of Bridgeport as the site of the 1953 tournament the local university was named as the official host for the two day affair.

Bridgeport thus became the first school to acknowledge and accept the bid that will eventually see four teams compete for the right to go to the national tournament which will be held at Kansas City, Mo. from March 9 through March 14.

Bids, however, were believed to have been sent to six other schools, including Fairfield University, Arnold College, New Britain State Teachers College, St. Anslem's College, Stonehill College and Providence College.

US Student Survey Finds Peace Distant

By Associated Collegiate Press

College students have little hope of either a speedy end to the Korean war or peace between Russia and the United States.

In a survey taken by the Associated Collegiate Press of national student opinion, students across the nation were asked, "Do you think the Korean war will be over within the next six months?" The results were: Yes, 5%; No, 82%; No Opinion, 10%; Others, 3%.

Students were also asked "How do you feel about the chances for a peaceful settlement of differences between Russia and the United States?" The answers were: Chances are good, 3%; Chances are fair, 27%; Chances are poor, 54%; No chances, 12%; No Opinion, 4%.

In a student opinion poll taken one year ago the same question was asked. At that time only 45% of those interviewed said "Chances are poor."

Some remarks were: "There will be no compromise." "Russia is not looking for peace but for power."

Those who feel there is still a chance for peace tend to pin their hopes on: A revolution in the Soviet Union and its satellites; Soviet fear of Western power; United States "patience and diplomacy"; Eisenhower; a "turning back," as one student put it, "to religion and God."

Tickets for both nights will be placed on sale either Monday or Tuesday and will be $1.20 each, including tax. They will be made available at the Bursar's office Monday or Tuesday. There will be no reserved seats on either night, seating being on a first come, first served basis. The tickets can also be obtained at the Armory box office on the nights of the games.

St. Anslem's has declined the bid on the basis of conflicting schedules, while Fairfield has voided themselves because of their mediocre 8-8 record. The remainder of the field, expected to be named today or tomorrow, will probably be New Britain, Arnold and Stonehill, with Providence or another school holding an outside chance.

Last year, the regional tournament was held at Waterville, Maine, with Colby College as the host school. In addition to the White Mules, the Purple Knights of the University of Bridgeport, Providence College and American International College rounded out the four team field.

AIC upset Providence and Colby on successive nights to cop the New England crown, but they were eliminated in the opening round of play at Kansas City. Bridgeport emerged in third place in Maine, falling before Colby and then whipping Providence.

In the national tournament, 32 teams, each the champions of their respective districts, will vie for the national crown starting on March 9. Considered as one of the toughest tournaments in the country, the would-be-champs will be forced to undergo a grueling schedule which includes five games within six days.

This 'Fever' Promises No Ills, Chills, or Pills

Reservations and tickets for the Spring production "Petticoat Fever" are available at Alumni Hall today, 2 to 3 P. M. and tomorrow 10 to 11:30 A. M. and 2 to 5 P. M.

Written by Mark Reed, "Petticoat Fever" will be shown in the Klein March 6 and 7. Albert A. Dickason will direct the student production.

Cinder Squad Ready For Big Varsity Season

With football already in the books and basketball ready to follow suit, a comparatively new sport stands ready to take over the limelight. Occupying what used to be known as the "dead season", track is slowly but surely taking its place among UB varsity sports.

Last year, after a three year famine, the UB cindermen captured their first meet, trouncing arch rival Fairfield U. 57½ to 54½. That was the sole victory of the season for the Bridgeport trackmen, but it broke the ice and could be the starting point of a fine major sport at UB.

Under the guidance of Coach Walter "Kay" Kondratovich, who took over the reigns last year, the track squad has slowly been developing into an area contender.

In the past, many meets were lost by only a few points because of the lack of depth and Kay has urged anyone who can do anything in the way of track or field events to come out for this year's squad. He also stressed that experience is not the most important thing.

This year, because of graduation, ineligibilities and a crop of other reasons, Kondratovich will have to start almost from scratch with a new squad.

Returning to this year's squad are Phil DuBreuil, last year's captain, who set a school record of 21'11" in the broad jump against Arnold. DuBreuil also competes in the pole vault, high jump, discus and shot put and does some running, chiefly in the hurdles.

Backing up DuBreuil in the field events are Andy "Skip" Wargo, John Anderson, Charles Petrino in the weight throws, Sandy Mehorter and Richard Wilks.

The team suffered its greatest losses in the track part of the picture when it lost Charlie Stetson, Don Marchette, Bob Perez, but Jim Halsey and Dick Ellis will be back to bolster the middle distance slot.

Seven meets have been tentatively scheduled for the coming season and the final schedule will be announced within a few weeks. Thus far the card reads: April 22 at New Britain; 29-Fairfield; May 2 White Plains State Tech; 6-Arnold; 9-Bryant; 13-New Haven and the State meet at New Britain May 16.

Knights Meet Fairfield Saturday in Season Final

By Mickey Vail

Little Three honors will be decided Saturday night as the high flying Purple Knights play host to neighboring Fairfield U in the season's finale at the Armory.

Bridgeport, by downing St. Anselm 70-60 last Saturday night and pulling out a thrilling 68-67 victory over Arnold Monday, ran its winning streak to five straight. Their season's record is now 15-7.

Fairfield dropped an earlier 67-63 de-sision to the Knights and sport a poor 8-8 record for the season including three wins in their last four games.

This clash will mark the end of regular season play for the Purple Knights and will close out the regular college career of six UB seniors, among whom are the highest scoring trio in the school's history, Lou Saccone, Gus Seaman and Dick LaBash.

Saccone, who now has a total of 1505 points, leads the parade, while LaBash and Seaman each have well over 1300 points.

Fairfield's captain, Norb Fahey will also be closing out his college career in Saturday night's encounter.

Should UB defeat the Stags, the Knights would clinch the mythical Southern Connecticut Little Three title. At present the Knights are in first place with a 2-1 record, while Arnold is second and Fairfield third with 2-2 and 1-2 records respectively.

Coach Jim Hanrahan of Fairfield will probably go along with his high scoring unit of Fahey, Bobby Gerwin, Stan Suchenski, Bob Markovic and Jack O'Connell Saturday, while UB mentor Herb Glines will probably start his regular five: Saccone, Seaman, LaBash, Amaral and Silverberg.

Earlier in the week, the Knights traveled to Manchester, N. H., to play a strong St. Anselm squad.

Co-Ed Sports Program Plans Are Formulated

Plans for a co-ed intramural sports program, with emphasis on outdoor activity, were formulated at a recent meeting of the Student Health Council.

Mrs. Jane M. Kondratovich, director of the Council, has stated that the increase in co-ed sickness is probably due to a lack of outdoor exercise.

Mary Royak and Betty Jane Finn have been appointed to organize the program.

With LaBash leading the way with 25 points, UB, after trailing early in the game went on a rampage in the final quarter to win 70-60.

Travelling to Milford to play an allimportant Little Three contest against Arnold Monday the Purple Knights pulled out a thriller in the last 30 seconds and whipped the Terriers 68-67. The same fine defensive play that has marked UB's last six games helped the Knights pull this one out of the fire and may bring the tournament title to Seaside Park.

UB Lasketeers At Local YW

We still don't know how the guards on UB's coed basketball team can play a MAN to MAN defense against another girl's team, but they've parlayed the system into a pretty fair record of two wins against three defeats at the end of the first round of play.

The University cageters play in the highly competitive local YWCA league against talented squads representing area girls clubs.

J. J. Johnston leads the 'Ladies-in-Purple' scoring attack by virtue of hitting for 26 points on two separate occasions in league competition this year. (There's a rumor that Coach Glines has asked J. J. to dress for the varsity games.)

Returning regulars from last year's squad are J. J. Johnston, Gloria Karafa, Pat Craig and Jody Whitehurst. Additions to the squad are Barbara Holland, Lucy Keegan, Pearl Ohlin, Jeanne Otfinowski, Pat Lait, Joan Uhrig and Eunice Pfalzgraph.

Games are played every Friday evening at the YWCA, Golden Hill St.

APO Drowns Opposition In Annual Swim Meet

With records falling in almost every event and APO swamping all competition, the annual Intramural Swimming Meet was held recently at the YMCA. The final score was 48-3 with Dick Ellis gathering 18 points, Dick Chatland 15 and Sand Mehorter 8 for the victorious fraternity.

The results:
40 yd. freestyle: (1) Chatland, (2) Deitler, (3) Rubin; time 21.0 sec.*
40 yd. breaststroke: (1) Ellis, (2) Mehorter, (3) Deitler; 22.3 sec.*
100 yd. freestyle: (1) Chatland, (2) Kushnick, (3) Maurer; 1:02.9 sec.
Diving: (1) Mehorter, (2) Ellis, (3) Austern; pts. 230.*
40 yd. backstroke: (1) Ellis, (2) Kushnick, (3) Paul; 24.7 sec.*
60 yd. freestyle: (1) Ellis, (2) Chatland, (3) Deitler; 32.5 sec.*
80 yd. freestyle relay: (1) APO, 53.0 sec. * New UB record.

When the whistle blows ending Saturday's game it will end a very successful season for the Knights. That same whistle will also end the regular playing careers of three of its most outstanding athletes.

We are referring to Lou Saccone, Gus Seaman and Dick LaBash. The only thing that will prolong their UB basketball career will be the tournament that will be in the Armory March 5 and 6. The Knights have fought hard all season and deserve this right to play in the tournament.

In ending the regular season against Fairfield University, the "Big Three" are playing the game that has always been the big one for UB teams. Throughout the Fairfield-UB series the threesome always managed to be an important factor in UB's battle with the Red Stags.

In the first encounter that the "Big Three" had against the Fairfield quintet back in the 1949-50 season, it was Lou Saccone who led the Knights to victory with the game high of 14 points.

In the second game of that year's series it was again Lou Saccone who led the Knights with a total of 18 points.

This year it was Dick LaBash who led the Knights to victory over the boys from Fairfield and in last year's victory it was the rebounding of Gus Seaman that gained the UB victory.

One of the most interesting things about these three players is that they all manage to lead the scoring. An example of this can be seen by how each member of the team has managed to lead the season's scoring but they always finish very close to each other.

In their first season, Gus Seaman was the season's high man with a total of 279 points with Lou and Dick right behind him with over 200 points apiece themselves. Last year was Lou's year as he was top man with Gus and Dick right behind him. This year it has been Dick leading the way with Lou and Gus right behind him.

Three other Knights will also be calling it a career as they perform for the last time on Saturday, barring the tournament bid. These players are Don Glasing, Ray Hirth and Lou Radler. These boys have been valuable replacements for the Knights and will also be missed.

Shorts in Sports About Campus

In the rush of the many UB students to get home for Christmas vacation no one noticed the swimming intramural meet which was won by APO. It was the third straight win for the APO lads and thus they retire the trophy. They also hold all the individual plus the team records in intramural swimming..... Charlie Stetson, last year's promising basketball player, is playing service ball and averaging over twenty points a game.... Dennis "Whitey" Behuncik former sub quarterback is with the Marine Corps in Korea. Before shipping out he witnessed many of the University of Southern California games and practices..... Al Jessup and Andy Olayos have been stationed at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation in Penn. as part of the 5th Infantry Division. Both are former UB football teammates..... Johnny DiMenna is in the service in Korea.

ALONG PARK PLACE

By The SCRIBE Staff

Boy, did we get the works as a result of last week's column. We'll try to fix things up this week, if we possibly can. The Grinning Greek, Andy Demo... who usually pens this piece of inaccurate journalism, has been "tied down" with German Measles. He'll be back next week, though.

Ann Fleischer, Seaside Hall, engaged to Gary Schacht, a UConn boy.... Mac, the Campus Bluecoat for the past few years, is no longer with us.... Elmer Maher, UB Police Chief, has taken over.

Jean Johnston, cheerleader captain, is in training at Bridgeport Hospital. It doesn't keep her from doing her duty at the games, tho.

The most eligible bachelor, by his own admission, Gary Singer, is no longer free. He finally became engaged to his Skidmore better half, Bunny Greenbaum, whose stage name is Doris Gibson. Gary's is Gary Singer, because that's what his mother calls him.

Marina Hall is planning its biggest open house ever. The dorm party is tentatively set for "some time in the near future." The ex-Waldemere boys are planning to do it up big.

Now for the corrections: The Crystal-Froman-Sawyer trio simply isn't or never was so say the three involved. Harriett Robbins' Sam is Sam Robinson, UB grad. Ellie Hoffman-Bob Schigan pairing-off wasn't. Mary Royak says that her engagement shouldn't be announced so we'll hold off on it.

Adele Silverman is out of the hospital. She got back to UB less than 20 minutes after last week's paper came out. Steve Michaels-Sharon Bramson never was, according to Sharon. Alumni Hall Board of Directors is legally Alumni Hall Board of GOVERNORS.

We still refuse to name the gals who wrote last week's bit. Tain't ethical, y'know.

In a phone call to The SCRIBE from his bed last Thursday evening, Andy said this: "I have heard about the uproar that the column has caused and I take full responsibility for whatever was printed. The column was not written by anyone connected with The SCRIBE. Tell the kids at school to stop blaming each other."

We've been doing pretty well, so far, on these scoops. Two weeks ago, we predicted that Waldemere would be back as a men's dorm in the Fall. Dr. Littlefield made this come true. Civilian Defense set-up came through.

Campus Carnival, which was the Circus Dance, was a guess too. That's 100% for those predictions.

Wistarian will be really something this year. The artists, Phil DuBreuil and Dick Weckler are doing a swell job on the theme... which is a secret. We know the scoop, though. Here's a tip: It'll be really old!

Ben Raubvogel is re-writing last week's MY DAY with Eleanor short story into a 75,000 word novel. "That I remember." It'll hit the presses soon. Foreward by Harvey "Leader" Seltzer.

Get Hep, UBites Jive Those Feet To Fit The Beat

"Down Beat," the country's popular music magazine, has inaugurated a nationwide college contest to stimulate interest in dancing at the college level.

Available to the winning school for an entire day at no cost will be the Ralph Marterie Orchestra, which will be awarded as First Prize. Other prizes include a complete record album for the school and an auditorium type TV set.

To the student obtaining the most points in the contest, whether he is in the winning school or not, goes a $150 world-band Hallicrafters portable radio. The student obtaining the most points in the winning school, along with a companion of his own choice, will be the guest of Marterie at dinner.

Points in this contest will be earned by obtaining subscriptions to "Down Beat."

High School to G-Man; Story of John Miller

By John Schaffner

In April of 1941, the Federal Bureau of Investigation came to Eastern High School in Washington, D. C., to seek one boy and one girl for training for service in the F. B. I.

After careful elimination, John Miller, now an Evening Division student at the University, was summoned to the office of the principal and informed that he had been chosen as the boy for the position.

After graduating from high school, Miller was officially inducted on his 18th birthday and started working as a messenger. This lasted only five weeks, after which he was sent to fingerprinting school where he stayed until his voluntary induction into the Navy in July, 1943. He expected to be assigned to a ship.

Overseas Duties

Of the 32 months that he was in the service, 24 were spent overseas at sonar stations on Guam, Midway and the Hawaiian Islands. He never even boarded a ship.

Miller was discharged in March, 1945 and returned home to Washington in June, 1946.

Before going overseas he was training at Fishers Island, New York. On leave in Bridgeport he met a girl with whom he corresponded and later married.

Miller went back to his job in fingerprinting in Washington until 1947, when he was transferred to the New Haven office as a special employee of the F. B. I. He could only say that his job entails responsibilities to the special agent in charge and routine investigations.

Studies Accounting

His duties cut down on the agent's work and aided Miller in acquiring skills and experience for a future position. He is hoping to be a special agent himself in the near future, but not before he completes his education and earns his degree in accounting. He needs only 47 more credits.

Upon graduation, Miller will undergo strenuous examinations, both physical and mental, and then, after a fifteen-week training period, he will be admitted, if all results are favorable, as a special agent.

Our Irvine Gives Sayso On Shakespeare 'Sessa'

John Irvine, HELICON editor, has had an article published in the English Scholars Magazine, NOTES AND QUERIES.

His article is concerned with a word, "Sessa," in Shakespeare's Taming of the Shrew. The National Shakespearean Dictionary says it might be a hunting cry. Mr. Irvine maintains that it is an Anglicized spelling of the French phrase, "C'est ça."

Professor Thomas Mabbet a noted poet and scholar at Hunter College, sent Mr. Irvine a letter in which he agreed with the article.
